

National Roundtable Volunteer Reimbursement Guidelines

The American Cancer Society covers reasonable travel, lodging, and incidental expenses for the Executive Leadership Team, Steering Committee, and other designated ACS roundtable volunteer event faculty (e.g., speakers, moderators, and other volunteer participant roles) for participation in its in-person National Meeting, summits, and retreats. Please note, financial support for travel costs associated with ACS roundtable events will be determined as the budget resources allow.

When seeking reimbursement for travel costs, volunteers should request and save itemized receipts for all expenses. We appreciate your attention to these guidelines and the following policies to ensure the appropriate and economical use of donor funds.

Reimbursement Process

Volunteers who incur roundtable-related expenses are required to submit those expenses for reimbursement as follows:

1. Thoroughly review the ACS National Roundtable Volunteer Reimbursement Guide to determine what you can and cannot request reimbursement for.
2. Complete the ACS Volunteer Reimbursement Form with all applicable information. Include images of all original, itemized receipts – credit card statements are not accepted. Expenses submitted without an original, itemized receipt will not be reimbursed. If payment should be made to an organization instead of individual volunteer, please notate that clearly on the form.
3. Use this link to submit your form & itemized receipts within 30 days after the expense was incurred. Expenses submitted more than 60 days after the date they were incurred are not reimbursable per IRS guidelines.
4. Volunteers will receive an email notification indicating their reimbursement requests is being processed, and a notification when the payment has been issued.

Please Note:

- Individuals requesting over $600 in cumulative reimbursement from ACS over the course of a calendar year, will be required to complete a W9 form per IRS guidelines. Individuals will receive an email from do_not_reply@cancer.couphost.com with the subject line: Profile Info Request that will enable them to complete any additional fields needed for their profile and to submit a completed W9 via secure link.
- Generally, reimbursements are paid via a mailed check. If volunteers elect to be reimbursed via ACH/Direct Deposit – a secure link will be provided for them to enter banking information. A W9 is required for this type of payment regardless of the payment amount. Direct deposit setup only needs to be completed once, but if you need to update banking information at any time – please notify ACS roundtable staff and a new secure link will be sent to you via email.
